

Temple Comparison

Herod the Great's expansion of the second temple in Jerusalem, begun around 20 BC, made the temple more than twice the size of Solomon's temple, finished in 960 BC. Herod the Great ruled Judea at Jesus' birth and attempted to kill him (Mt 2:1-20). Herod the Great's son, Herod Antipas, became tetrarch of Galilee and Perea in 4 BC. He is the Herod involved in John the Baptist's execution and Jesus' trial (Mt 14:1-12; Luke 9:7-9; 23:6-12).
